THE DESCENDANTS OF SOLOMON BARTON OF DUTCHESS COUNTY, NEW YORK, AND MONKTON, VERMONT.

COMPILED BY THE LATE DR. JOSHUA LINDLEY BARTON.

ANCESTRY: It has been stated that the original ancestor in America of Solomon Barton was Edward Barton, a sea-captain, who brought his family from England and settled in the Barbadoes Islands. No printed record of this has been located, although it is said to exist in the Barbadoes. The same uncertain source is responsible for the statement that two sons of Edward, namely Roger and Rufus came to the Island of Manhattan about 1641 from Barbadoes. Rufus, very shortly afterwards went into the English colony at Providence, R. I., and was the founder of the Barton family of that section. Roger settled amongst the Dutch and in August, 1642, leased land of the Reverend Everardus Bogardus, second husband of Anneke Jans, on Manhattan Island: 62 acres, bounded on the south by the present Warren Street and on the north by Canal Street. How long he remained in Manhattan is not known. In 1664 he was in Brookhaven on Long Island. In 1678 he leased land of John Arcer north of Bronck's River.

He died there, apparently, in 1688. In his will he mentions his wife Mary and six children, all sons: Elijah, Elisha, Roger, Noah, Enoch and Joseph.

Joseph, evidently the youngest son, and the grandfather of Solomon, was born about 1684, probably in Westchester town of Westchester Co., N. Y. In 1701 he removed to Jamaica, Long Island, where about 1713 he married Rachel —, by whom he had two children, John and Mary. Rachel died in 1716 or 1717 for in May, 1717, he married Abigail Lewis at Jamaica, Long Island. The children of Joseph and Abigail were: Thomas, Caleb, Lewis, Roger, Joseph, William, Elijah, Benjamin, Millicent, Sarah and Rachel. The family removed about 1721 to Scarsdale Manor; he sold that farm in 1731 and removed to Greenwich, Fairfield Co., Ct. In 1743 he removed to Filkintown in Crum Elbow Precinct, Dutchess Co.,* N. Y.—whether with all of his family is doubtful. Filkintown, is a village now said to have completely disappeared, but near the site of the present Mabbittsville, Washington town, Dutchess Co. Here Joseph died in Sept., 1762, his wife evidently having died before him as she is not mentioned in his will.

Joseph's son Caleb, the father of Solomon, was born in 1723, probably at Scarsdale Manor, Westchester Co., N. Y. He married at an unknown date, probably near Filkintown or in the section to the north known as Great Nine Partners, Rose —. They apparently accepted the Friends faith, the family previously having been chiefly Presbyterians. Caleb apparently went alone to Kinderhook, Columbia Co., about 1760; for in 1761 Rose Barton is mentioned as the head of a family at Nine Partners. In the neighborhood of Kinderhook, Caleb raised his family, living there as late as 1816; he died March 15, 1819.

aged 96, at the home of his son Joshua, near Amenia, North East town, Dutchess Co. The children of Caleb and Rose were: Peter, Patience, Solomon, Joshua, Noah, Zachariah, Joseph, Caleb, Jr., James, Charity, Dorcas and Rosanna.

1. SOLOMON¹ BARTON, son of Caleb and Rose Barton, b. March 3, 1754, in Dutchess Co., probably in the N. E. section known then as Nine Partners, or in "Charlotte Precinct" which included the present towns of Beekman and North East. He married (1) at Nine Partners Friends' Meeting House, Oct. 6, 1773, Charity Haight, b. July 19, 1754, dau. of Joshua Haight and Charity —, of Crum Elbow, Dutchess Co. Charity Barton probably died between 1777 and 1783. He married (2) in Westchester town at Friends' Meeting House, Dec. 17, 1783, Phoebe Quimby, b. Feb. 6, 1761, dau. of Aaron Quimby and Elizabeth Cornell of Throg's Neck, Westchester town and Co. In 1783 they returned to Nine Partners; in 1786, Solomon was in Monkton, Vt.; according to the U. S. Census of 1790 Solomon and family were then living in New Huntington town, Vt.; in 1803 they formally transferred their membership from the Nine Partners Meeting to that of the Friends at Ferrisburg, Vt. Solomon and Phoebe resided in Monkton till their deaths; Solomon dying Aug. 19, 1817 and Phoebe in 1837.

NOTES ON ENGLISH BARTON FAMILIES.

From a search of all of the principal published Visitations of all of the Counties of England it was determined that the name of Roger Barton occurs in but those of Yorkshire and Shropshire (or Salop). These were mostly made in the century between 1550 and 1650.

Yet on searching the parish registers of Yorkshire, a set of 76 volumes and covering dates from ca. 1580 to 1700, the name of Roger Barton does not appear once.

On studying the parish registers of the Shire of Lancaster, adjoining York to the west, we find for similar range of dates, the name of Roger Barton occurring no less than 39 times.

In the parish registers of Shropshire in all the 40 or more volumes it occurs but once as follows:

"Rev. Stephen Parry, Vicar, d. 27th Apr. 1745 in his 50th year. Theodosia, his wife, daughter and coh. of Roger Barton, of Knowlton Hall, County Flint (Wales bounding Shropshire on the N. W.) died, 18th Apr. 1716 in her 31st year." The only parishes where the name Barton occurs at all commonly in Shropshire are: St. Martins, St. Chads, Diddlebury, St. Marys, and the Society of Friends, Shrewsbury. Roger's name occurred in St. Martins, Thomas Barton occurs commonly in all of the above 5 volumes. Diddleston or Duddleston, the Shropshire Bartons' appellation, and locality seems to have been near Ellesmere near the N. W. boundary and very close to Oswestry of Lancashire. Halghton, mentioned in the Diddleston lineage is in Flintshire, Wales, nearby.

Reverting to the parish registers of Lancashire, in all of the 60 and more volumes, the name of Barton occurs freely, i.e., more than 10 times, only in ten of them and of these the name Roger Barton occurs in six volumes:

Vol. 2 Burnley, 2 times	Vol. 13 Ormswirk, 23 times.
Vol. 4 Wigan, 2 "	Vol. 16 Padham, 5 "
Vol. 5 Walton, 1 "	Vol. 23 Upholland, 10 "

Gilbert Barton occurs only in vols. 4, 13 and 23 and has not been met with elsewhere in all parish registers and visitations searched. (Gilbert Barton in a Roger line has occurred several times in Orange and Putnam Cos.) The items for all of these Rogers and Gilberts have been copied; the most interesting one is perhaps this under Walton (only 6 miles north of Liverpool):

"Roger, Alice and Elizabeth, children of Thomas Barton bapt. (respectively) 25, 18, and 15 Feb. 1602/3" (their year ended in Mar., so really 1603).

If the Thomas Barton of Barbadoes, shown to have been in Barbadoes as early as 1638 and whose will was probated there in 1658, proves to have had a son Roger, they might well be the above mentioned family. (Strangely enough the Walton volume has all of the Barton entries checked in pencil by some earlier New York searcher. No other volume has such checks against Barton names.) There is no other record of a Roger born to a Thomas Barton in these shires at any appropriate date although Rogers were born in Lancashire in 1602, 1604, 1605, 1611, 1622, 1635.

The Roger Barton, Knight of Bath, though occurring in several books is an error for Roger Bertie, the name from which the Willoughbys descended. Found a copy of a rare pamphlet giving all names of those knighted at Coronation of Charles First and checked this here and elsewhere.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

No. 67, Ann⁴ Barton (Vol. LIX, p. 361) married James Cromwell, born in Cornwall, Orange Co., N. Y. He was a resident of Troy, N. Y., at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

In 1861, Capt. Cromwell and his fellow townsman, Capt. William Silliman, were officers and recruited a company of the Black Horse Cavalry, Colonel Morison commanding. After some months' service in Washington, D. C., the regiment was disbanded by order of the Secretary of War and Capt. Cromwell returned to Cornwall, where in 1862, he organized Co. C, 124th N. Y. Inf. Vols., in which he was commissioned Major.

Major Cromwell was killed while leading a charge at the battle of Gettysburg, Pa., July 2, 1863. Waving his sword twice above his head, he exclaimed, "Come, boys, come. The day is ours," and spurred his horse which dashed forward, while his men with ready bayonets rushed after him through the lines. The Confederates gave way, but a volley mowed down fully a quarter of the charging soldiers, including the brave major, who was shot through the heart while shouting a cry of victory. His body was brought back to the Union lines. On his breast was found a gold locket containing the portrait of his wife.

Not long before her death, the daughter of Major Cromwell made a notable visit to Cromwell Post, No. 466, G. A. R. of White Plains, N. Y., coming from Massachusetts for that purpose.

The Cromwell Guards, a semi-military organization in Cornwall, N. Y., was named in honor of its heroic son.

(A. G. BARRATT, Ballston Spa, N. Y.)

No. 201, Walter J.^s Fordyce (Vol. LIX, p. 371), in a letter dated Oct. 10, 1928, states that the name of his mother-in-law should be Sarah and not Sara Mehitable Burt Gibb. The oldest son (No. 377) was Byron Walter, not Byron Watts. The second son (No. 378), Clarence Wilbur, was born July 27, 1907. not 1902. The daughter (No. 379), Ruth Cecilia, was born at West Derby, Vt., not Newport, on June 7, 1910, not 1907. West Derby was joined to Newport in 1918.—(WALTER J. FORDYCE, Newport, Vt.)
